[Correspondence of the Herald.] WASHINGTON, Oct. 24, 184 The Tariff-Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Walker-The Secretary of State in an auful quandary.

The country has some interest in the Federal Ad. ministration. It is composed of men elected for the service of the public, and as a servant of the public upon the watch-tower of our free institutions, we are not only authorized but enjoined to keep up an impartial but vigilant surveillance over our Federal ministers, their policy, their movements, and their designs—the subjects of their disagreement, and the overtures proposed to their harmonious settlement.

Concurrent and concordant as have been the Pre-sident and his Cabinet upon most other subjects, overtures proposed to their harmonious settlement.

Concurrent and concordant as have been the President and his Cabinet upon most other subjects, from the outset there was an insurmountable barrier of cold iron between Mr. Walker and Mr. Buchanan on the subject of the Tariff. And now, that the day approximates for the reference by the Executive of his recommendations on this subject to Congress—now, that there appears no leaping the chasm between a Revenue Tariff and the law of '42—no circumventing it—the question i.ow recurs, shall the Secretary of State yield the wall to Mr. Walker—remain in the Cabinet, submissive and important or retreat again into the ranks of the party in Peansylvania. with the manly resolve offinificable resistance to the invasion of the Keysone by the anti-Tariffites of the South!

Mr. Buchanan was offered a seat on the Supreme Bench by John Tyler in 1844, which he declined, first, because of his contempt of the nominating authority—second, for the sake of appearances; as it would have appeared that the appointment to said judgeship, if accepted, was preconcerted—the reward of Mr. Buchanan for his services to said Tyler in the matter of the Texas annexation. It is now believed that the office would be acceptable to the Secretary of State—a safe and dignified retreat from the aquable's of the Cabinet, so unsuited to the staid and quiet notions of an old bacheler. But the State of Pennsylvania, or rather Mr. Buchanan's oracle there, the Harrisburgh Union, enters it protest against any such arrangement. WASHINGTON, Oct 24, 1845 The Tariff-Tea and Coffe - Social Affairs-Case of Lieut. McLaughlis-The U.S. Journal and its premature decision-The exclusive Reports of the Herald.

In a late letter upon the tariff we referred to a contingency which might arise in the proposed reduction of an increase of the duties upon tea and coffee-for increase read impositionas there are no duties upon those articles except under certain specified transhipments, which are the merest trifle in compariso with the aggregate importations.

with the aggregate importations.

To-morrow we shall give a serious and more specific chapter upon the subject of the proposed orifi revision, showing by what organization a reduction may be effected—upon what issues—upon what articles, and by what means, and at what time. Our opinion is fixed that a revision will not be effected during the ensuing session, should it be prolonged till September next.

Our letter upon social affairs in Washington is necessarily deterred. We desire to give such an exposition, with such conclusions as cannot ful to attract attention and suggest improvement, notwithstanding we are as good as, and in many respects better, perhaps, than our neighbors.

Our attention has been attracted this evening to a premature article in the U.S. Juarnal, on the subject of abuses in the Navy, animadverting particularly upon the alleged extravagances of Lieutenant McLaughlin, of the Florida Squadron, during the

McLaughlin, of the Florida Squadron, during

McLaughlin, of the Florida Squadron, during the late most expensive Seminole war. A fair show to this officer would have suggested the withholding any expression of opinion until the close of the inquiry in progress at the Navy Department.

The reports of this intere ing examination published exclusively in the Herald, have attracted nosmall attention, and some little carping on both sides. We can answer to the impartiality and fidelity of our associate, of which his reports, however, are a sufficient evidence.

Last news from the seat of war. By a traveller from the South we learn this evening that at the last advices the U. S. army at Corpus Christi were about establishing a tempory theatre for their diversion while awaiting the issue of war. We give little credit, however, to the story.

For the last fortnight the hotels of this city have been crowded to overflow with strangers, and they still conti-nue to flock in from every direction without the slightest intermission. Some are merchants, some seekers of plea-ure, others seekers of office on a pilgrimage to or from Washington, and others, again, seekers of other men's orket books-the latter class have met with but little success of late, it not being a more profitable business in this section than office seeking. Mr. Hardeman and Charles Soran have settled their difficulties by notes of hand, and now are firing at one another through the newspapers.

The Keans had a pretty good house for their benefit hast night—the bill was "Romeo and Juliet," and "The

The case of Reed, vs. the City of Baltimore, being a mit for damages laid at $10,000, for injury sustained by alling from the Hillen streetbridge, in consequence of a want of a suitable railing, was brought to a close in the tity court yesterday by a verdict of $200-acarcely mough to fee his lawyers with.

An old carter in this city named Pink, not less than ixty years of age, with a large family of childres, whom he has raised and supported from his earnings, received intelligence a short time since from England, that by the death of a relative, he was sole heir to an extra d about $50,000. He has consequently gone to take possession of it, and perhaps there is not a man more vorthy of this freak of old dame Fortune.

One of the most singular and unheard of scenes peraps ever witnessed in a Quaker meeting house, took lace in this city on Thursday—the yearly meeting of hat seet now being in session. Shortly after the hour or meeting to commence, whilst the brethren and sisters were sitently communing with their own minds, one of the delegates to the assemblage from Pennsylvania, unitely, and without being observed stripped himself, maintended to the meeting closed, and it required almost main force to compel him to put on his clothing.
